

Boo Benefit supports isle Shriners Hospital

Boo Benefit founder Boo Chaler recently presented a check for $45,000 to Shriners Hospital for Children in Galveston. The 12th annual three-day motorcycle rally primarily supports Camp I'm Still Me, formerly Louisiana Burn Camp, and The Chaler-Rods House, a respite house near the regional burn unit at LSU housing out-of-town families of burn patients.

Pictured, from left, are Jim Denson, Galveston board chairman; Douglass Maxwell, Shriners Hospital for Children International president; and Boo Chaler, Boo Benefit founder.

